GOVERNOR YATES IS AGAIN HONORED

Seventh Infantry of Illinois National Guard Tenders Reception to Chief Executive.

ATTEND FUNCTION.

Dancing Is Final Feature of Evening's Entertainment-Change in Color Scheme at Kentucky Building.

Governor Richard Yates of Illinois was the guest of honor at the reception given by the Seventh Infantry of the National Guard of Illinois at the State pavilion from 8 to 11 o'clock last evening. The military organizations of Illinois have al-ready tendered two receptions complimentary to the chief executive of that State, and the one last night was one of the best attended of those which have been given in the Illinois building. the receiving line were Governor Yates, Colonel Daniel Moriarity of the Beventh Regiment, Mrs. J. J. Brown of Vandalia and Mrs. J. H. Miller of Mc oro, the hostess of the building; Miss Lucille Brown and Miss John Miller, assistant hosesses; Miss Warder and Miss Bonniman of Vandalia, the members of the Illinois Commission, and the officers of the regiment. After the reception dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Heustia of Dubuque Ia., whose soprano voice was heard with the Dubuque Choral Club and later in Festival Hall, was the stellar attract tion at the regular weekly recital at the Arkansas State building yesterday morn-ing. The assembly hall was well filled, and the programme proved to be thoroughly enjoyable. Others who participated were: Miss Lillian Hale, planist, and Miss June Glenn, planist.

These morning recitals at the Arkansas building have been steadily increasing in popularity since the feature was inaugurated several weeks ago. Professor F. D. Baar, director of the Conservatory of Fine Arts of Ouachita College at Arkadelphia, is in charge of the arrangements for the recitals.

Miss Sadie McLaughlin of No. 1198 Ches correspond with some young man, adopted a rather novel way of calling attention to that fact. She placed a card bearing her name and address in a package of stationery for the Pennsylvania building at the World's Fair. The stationery, which has been on hand at the State pavillon for several weeks, was only opened yesterday, and the card of Miss McLaughlin was then disclosed to view. The young lady from the Quaker City will have her request granted, for one of the attendants at the building wrote to her yesterday, acknowledging the receipt of the card, and stating that he would be glad to correspond with her. The attendant is a young man of marriageable age, and it is not improbable that a real, genuins romance will result.

At the New Mexico building at A ciclose.

At the New Mexico building at 4 o'clock this afternoon the regular weekly meeting of the Executive Commissioners' Associa tion will be held. The meeting is an important one and will no doubt be largely attended. Among other matters to be discussed will be the report of Grant Thomas, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee, upon the result of the conference with President Francis and other Exponition authorities Saturday morning. The tion will be held. The meeting is an im with President Francis and other Expo-sition authorities Saturday morning. The committee will report that all of the griev-ances of the Commissioners have been amicably adjusted. The recommendation of the Executive Committee that a com-mittee of three be appointed to select a press representative for the association to work in connection with the local Press Bureau of the World's Fair will also be taken up.

Mrs. Emma D. Nuckols, chairman of the committee of the Hostesses' Association to select a bauge for its members, made a report yesterday to Mrs. Marie A. Fisher port yesterony to airs, siarie A. Fisher, the hostess of the Maryland building, who is the president of the association. The design is a very handsome one. It is of gold and white enamel and represents an agic with outspread wings. In the center will be a bur with the words "Hostesses" Association" at the bottom. "L. P. E." will be engraved, while the top bar will show the name of the State. show the name of the State.

Doctor and Mrs. Stubbs intend to leave in a few days for Gloucester County, Vir-ginia, to spend a brief vacation, staying at their country home, which has been in the possession of his family since 16%. During the absence of the State Commis-sioner. Colonel Charles Schuler, one of the Commissioners, will have charge of Louisiana's affairs at the Exposition.

For Thursday afternoon Mrs. Florence Long of Beaumont, the hostess at the building, will give the principal function of her week as hostess. It will be in the nature of an informal reception, followed by a recital, for which Mrs. L. L. Jester of Tyler, vocalist; Mrs. T. K. Hedrick of St. Louis, a former Texan, reader, and Alfred G. Robyn, the composer, accompanist, have tendered their services. The original color scheme of the down the World's Fair was green and red, but now the national color of the Emerald now the national color of the Emerald Isle has been removed and only red can be seen. The design of the carpet is red and the idea was for a green centerpiece. Probably red and green would have been all right if a foolish manufacturer had not had interwoven with the green piece pink roses, large and prominent roses at that. Those in charge of the building were rather in doubt as to accepting the green carpet when it was received, because of the pink roses, but the Fair was about to onen and the carpet was put down. The statue of George Rogers Clarke, by a Kentucky sculptor, was placed upon this green carpeting, and all went well until the meeting of the American Federation of Women's Clubs, in May, Mrs. Perkins of Coyington, the vice president for Kentucky, was the first one to call at the State building, and when she saw the famous explorer's statue standing on a green carpet, with pink roses, and surrounded by red, it rudely shocked her artistic mature and she held her hands up in horror, Other Kentucky ladies were called in and a regular indignation meeting was held. One of them went so far as to propose giving an entertainment to raise funds to buy a new centerpiece.

entertainment to raise funds to buy a new centerpiece.

They were finally pacified by the Kentucky Commissioners agreeing to remove the objectionable piece of carpet. The new carpet arrived Saturday. It was no easy task to make the change, as the statue of Clarke had to be taken apart and then replaced again, and in order to escape the further wrath of the Kentucky women, a force of men were at work Saturday. Sunday and Monday, and yesterday morning George Rogers Clarke's statue was resting upon a foundation of all red.

The crime committed by the Westerner was to sit in the chair used by Thomas Jefferson when he was presiding officer of the United States. Ribbons were tied around the chair, but this did not deter the woman from planting herself down in this famous piece of furniture, which is a part of the exhibit of the University of Virginia. The only reason she gave for her action was a desire to say that she sat in in same chair as Thomas Jefferson.

Colonel Edwards says they cannot have ices and fancy pastry dishes or red lemonade, but he told the natives they could have anything within reasonable demand. The members of the wild tribes of the island received a hint Monday of Colonel Edwards's economical plans for the reservation. Fearful that their rations would suffer in the general scheme for wholesale retrenchment of expenses, the natives met and presented their request for American food yesterday.

"No reduction will be made in the amount of rations served to the natives," said Colonel Edwards. "On the contrary, the former amount will be increased. They can have anything they want to eat, and they will not be compelied to live on a rice diet if they do not wish it. We want these people to be just as happy and comfortable while they are here as possible, and we are going to give them anything they want."

"When I left San Francisco last week I shared in the general opinion throughout the West in regard to the torridity of the weather in St. Louis, and did not plan to stop over at the Fair. When I reached your city, however, I found the weather so mild that I concluded to spend a day at the Fair before resuming my journey to New York. I have now been here several days, and have found the weather perfectly comfortable, and expect to remain as long as possible, for I am charmed with the Exposition and cannot imagine a better time to visit the great show."

JAPANESE PAINTINGS AT THE FAIR. War Scene by J. Kawashima Attracts

A Japacse war scene, worked in exquisite tapestry, probably attracts as much attention as any individual object in the tion of the present Japanese-Russian war. This vivid woven picture is 10 by 15 feet in extent, and depicts a war scene of more than 800 years ago. The artist, J. Ka-washima, has refused $7.90 for the procacwashima, has refused $7.90 for the production.

It shows several men on horseback, surrounded by foot solders, and the entire picture expresses the intense action of a desperate conflict. The coloring of the lades and equipment of the Oriental solders is especially me.

Other works of art of an unusual kind are to be found in the Japanese section, particularly the embroidery work of Jida Shinhich. Upon one of these hangings the life-sized picture of a lion has been executed with needle and silk, the greatest flowlity to nature in the matter of coloring of the laft and the poise of the recining least being preserved in the execution. Another work of the artist is the production of two peaceeks, with all the gorgeous plumage of the birds faithfully reproduced.

Besides, it was thought there is every promise of a record-breaking attendance at the Fair in the months to come, and it would be rerving no good purpose to reduce the admission fee.

MAYOR FAVORS SAVING LAGOONS

Approves Plan to Retain Water Feature After the World's Fair-To Consult With Officials.

It is now probable that the World's Fair agoons will be one of the Exposition features to be left in Forest Park ofter the close of the Fair. Mayor Rolla Wells yesterday expressed approval of the project. Nothing has been done thus far officially, but it is assured that when municipal representatives and World's Fair officials meet to discuss the advisability of keeping certain features of the Fair as fixtures in Forest Park, Mayor Wells will advocate the saving of the

"I have discussed the plan with several informally, but have not laid the project before the World's Fair management. I expect we will get together on it, however. Municipal and Exposition representatives will meet before the Fair closes to decide on what will be kept.

"At that time I shall favor the lagoons." Just what other features the cis," will advocate keeping, Mayor Wells was not prepared to say. It is not known either when the Fair and city officials will confer on the matter of what is to be retained.

UNITED STATES MAY TAKE HAND AT ZIEGLER.

Question of Mails Invaded in the Controversy at Joseph

Leiter's Town. REPUBLIC SPECIAL Christopher, Ili., July %-The United States Government, through the postal authorities, may prove an important factor in the Zeigler strike. While the Letter cople claim they have no use for the post office in the model town, it is admitted that in the event of a serious outbreak the presence of a United States Marshall to protect the mails would be welcome. Inspector C. W. Means of Mount Vernon Ill., attempted to pass the Zeigler outposts vesterday. He was halted by the guards and made to show his pass. Three miners with him were not allowed to enter. "I will go in if I have to put the United States Army back of me," shouted Means, losing his temper. "I am an American citizen." He would not allow a guard to accompany him into the town. The situation was explained to H. W. Platt, Leiter's spokesman, who sent a report to Bristow. The decision is await-

Postmaster Seeber was instructed to refuse information to Leiter. Joseph Leiter is not expected in Zeigler for several days. The strikers say he can come into their camp unarmed. Residents of Christopher believe that many miners would rather shoot him than blow up the plant, and that they will warn him. He is now in Bar Harbor.

One of the sensational charges that they will make is that a pool composed of a syndicate of St. Louis, Boston and New York capitalists have used the credit of the C..
